To the School Board:

Herewith I have the honor to present my annual school report for the year 1924—1925.

Can Deerfield children figure? A set of examination questions in Arithmetic given to the ninth grade children of Springfield, Massachusetts in 1846 for admission to high school was found a few years ago. It is a matter of common knowledge that Arithmetic in those days was greatly emphasized. The same test was given to the eighth grade pupils of Deerfield in November, 1923. The Springfield children had completed the ninth grade, and averaged fifteen and one-half years old. The Deerfield children averaged a little over fourteen, and were in the eighth grade. The average grade for the state of New Hampshire in this test was 49 per cent; for Deerfield it was 75 per cent; for Springfield 29 per cent.

Last spring form two of the Stanford Achievement test was given to all the Deerfield schools. Form one had been given in the fall. A decided improvement in the scholastic attainments of the children was shown as compared with the results secured earlier in the year; and the earlier results, as explained in my report of 1923—1924 were satisfactory.

Early in the spring of 1924 I called a teachers' meeting at the Center school. The cause of the meeting was to have an understanding with the teachers as to what should be done regarding over age and backward children in the various grades; the basis on which promotions should be made, and to formulate a program to observe the closing of school for the summer vacation.

During the summer months while the school world is enjoying rest, peace, and contentment, the school board's and the superintendent's duties still go on. Financial reports, statistical reports, repairs to school houses, hiring teachers, attendance at institutes, not to mention many other matters of more or less importance, require constant attention and work. Multiply the superintendent's share in these duties by five, and you will get a clear conception as to whether supervising schools is merely holding an office or performing service in the interest of education.

When all is said and done the greatest test of any school system is the quality of instruction, and the actual accomplishment of the child. It has been my duty and privilege to take a direct part in these phases of school work. Suffice it to say that both teachers and superintendent have worked harmoniously in a sort of partnership, to efficiently prepare the Deerfield children for intelligent living, and for further education in higher institutions of learning. Beside the supervision of the teachers' work which, has to do with questions of discipline, school management, methods of teaching, material of instruction, and the enforcement of the rules and regulations of the state and local boards of education, during the fall term I have given in all the schools, the following tests: Forms I of Scale of Problems in Arithmetic by E. R.

Buckingham, and of Thorndike McCall's Reading Scale. The results secured were tabulated and graphed, then discussed with the teachers. Giving tests of this nature is as beneficial to a school system, as taking account of stock is to a business man. Form two of the same tests will be given in the spring term to see whether or not the advancement which should be made after a year's study has actually taken place.

No graduation was held, but Ruth M. Maloon completed the eighth grade in January, and was given a diploma at that time.

Just a word regarding repairs to school houses. All the buildings received more or less repairs during the summer. Two received special attention. A new floor was laid at No. 13. The doors were repaired, and the exterior of the building was painted. A new floor was also laid at the Parade; a partition was put up about two feet from the wall on one side of the room to shut off the cross lights, and at the same time forming a fine cloak room for the children. An excellent jacketed stove was installed, resulting in a much better heating system than formerly. This policy of improving the school buildings should be continued until every school in town fulfills at least the minimum requirements for efficiency.

A Child Life reading chart has been presented to the schools by Mr. Walter E. King.

Last fall a parent-teacher association was organized in Deerfield. The school board, the superintendent, and a few other live wires of the town got together, and made the existence of such an organization possible. Three meetings were held. On these occasions officers were chosen; the desirability of such an organization was discussed; a committee was elected to draw up a constitution and by-laws. By common consent an enjoyable and pleasant evening was spent each time. The existence of many other activities, and the approach of winter have temporarily put a stop to the activities of the organization.

In the spring we hope to continue with renewed energy the splendid meetings begun last fall. This association will be of great assistance in bringing the local matters of educational interest to the fore, in talking them over sympathetically and friendly thus, leading to a reliable, intelligent, and first hand information and understanding of school matters. Every citizen should take pride in associating himself with the organization. Everybody is desirable and wanted, whether he has any children attending school or not. Education affects everybody. On its spread and advancement depends the future happiness and prosperity of our country.

Perhaps enough has been said in previous reports concerning the importance of punctual attendance, inexcusable absence from school, children's health, vaccination, and so forth. These considerations are just as important today as they ever were. Let us remember that the law is no respecter of persons. Every worthy citizen responds cheerfully when called upon by the Commonwealth to perform civic duties, be it through the selectmen, the school board, the board of health, the superintendent of schools, or any other legally appointed officer in the interest and welfare of society.

Respectfully submitted,

VINCENT GATTO,

Supt. of Schools.
